

WIKAI blogs about know-how, products and the company itself

Klingenberg, July 2015.

The new blog concept from WIKAI offers the reader further information and a new insight into the group of companies. All articles can be found through the central portal “blog.wika.com”.

The contents are divided into four categories. The headings “products”, “applications” and “know-how” are full of bulletins on all segments of the WIKAI product family. Under the additional heading “WIKAI insight”, a wide variety of information on the worldwide WIKAI Group can be found.

With this new concept, WIKAI has unified its previous blog offering. The blog is matched to the design of the website and is optimised for use on mobile devices.
